

THE EVENING BULLETIN

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.

ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

FRIDAY, MAY 30, 1890.

The Hickman Courier nominates Judge Wm. Lindsay for Governor. Judge Lindsay may be a good man for the position, but what's the matter with Lieutenant Governor Bryan?

It is a rather significant fact during the past year more than one hundred non-partisan tariff reform clubs have been organized in the State of Illinois. Don't be surprised if the State goes Democratic at the next election.

MAJOR A. J. MOREY, for over thirty years the editor of the defunct Cynthia News, has announced himself as an independent candidate to represent Harrison County in the Constitutional convention. Hon. A. Q. Ward and W. H. Martin are the Democratic candidates.

The Democratic Congressional convention for the district across the river, to be held at Hillsboro on the 3rd of July, consist of 170 delegates apportioned to the counties as follows: Brown, 41; Clermont, 41; Highland, 34; Adams, 29; Pike, 22. Necessary for a choice, 86.

The Philadelphia Record thinks that "Kentucky is a model Commonwealth in many respects, and she gives proof of her magnanimity by sending her most deserving sons to the Senate of the United States. If this example should be imitated by other States the Senate would soon become what it ought to be—the greatest deliberative body in the world," adds the Record.

Things are far from being lively and serene in the camp of the Ohio Republicans. Here is the way the Times Star, one of their organs, talks:

We speak from the point of view of Republicanism, which alone is to be considered, and which was sacrificed in 1880 by the most reckless and outrageous practices. This is a plain statement of a plain truth. Is there any one in Ohio who will assert that the Republican party sanctions acts which were political crimes and brought its degradation? Yet the State committee has done so; and we are coolly informed that this is in the interest of "peace" and "harmony." Peace, they say, must come by favor of the leader who wrecked the party and now generously consents to take the lead again. They say that he is ready to forgive; he has no animosities; he will not sulk! A fine bit of unwitting droolery, to be sure.

After the Clarksons and Quays.

Says the New York Evening Post: "Not only are the newspapers of the country steadily becoming supporters of Democracy, as Mr. Clarkson has been pained to observe, but some of those which still cling to Republican principles talk about the Clarksons and the Quays in tones no more agreeable than those of Democratic journals. Such a newspaper as the Valley Virginian, published at Staunton, and the leading Republican organ of Virginia, 'Mr. Clarkson,' it says, 'has not only conspired against the public decency of this Commonwealth, but he has used the power with which he has been intrusted by the Republican party to lower the standard of party duty and prostitute the organization to a mere machine to execute the will of a corrupt and mercenary boss.' It declares that he has 'humiliated and disintegrated the Republican party in Virginia; that he has connived at plots and plans which have brought the Republican administration into disrepute and paralyzed the Republican party of the country; and that 'when he holds up the Mahones and the Chalmers as the representative Republicans of the South, and lends the power of the Government, so far as he wields it, to entrench them in power to prostitute the party under their feet, he simply commits a crime against the Republican party, not only of the South, but of the Nation.' The Virginian recalls 'the political cyclone which swept over Virginia' last year, and anticipates an equally 'crushing defeat' for the Republicans throughout the country in the Congressional elections next fall. 'The party,' it concludes, 'must repudiate, such influences as the Quays, the Clarksons and the Mahones, unload itself of such an incubus, or the people will repudiate it, and teach a lesson, though costly, that will not soon be forgotten. There must be an end to corrupt machine politics.' Really, there must be little satisfaction for Clarkson in having Republicans read Republican newspapers if they are going to tell the truth about him so plainly as this."

The Appellate Clerkship.

The convention at Louisville completed the organization yesterday, after which the balloting was commenced.

The balloting was continued well along into the night, the eleventh resulting in 286 votes for Adams, 269 for Longmoor, and Madden next.

No news this morning from the convention.

THERE are 55,151 Oddfellows in Ohio, an increase of 2,379 in the past year. The total assets of all the lodges in the State amount to over $2,000,000.

THE COUNTY LEVY.

The Court of Claims Fixes It at 32 1-2 Cents on the $100. A Little Higher Than Last Year.

Court House to Be Painted—Resolutions in Reference to Retiring Officers—Claims Allowed.

The Court of Claims re-convened yesterday, with all the Magistrates present. The final report of Garrett S. Wall, Treasurer of the M. & S. Railroad Bond fund, was filed and ordered recorded.

The free turnpike proposition was withdrawn.

The Maysville Street Railway Company was granted right of way over the Infirmary farm for a double track road. The grant was made on condition that the road be constructed within two years from this date.

A sum not exceeding $400 was appropriated and placed in the hands of 'Squires L. H. Mannen, T. J. Pickett and Wesley Vicroy to have the court house painted.

It was ordered that the county levy for year 1890 be fixed as follows:

Turnpike and bridge tax, 7 1/2 cents on the $100
Jail fund tax, 10 cents on the 100
Deficit claims tax, 5 cents on the 100
M. & S. Railroad tax, 5 cents on the 100
Infirmary fund tax, 5 cents on the 100

Total tax, 32 1/2 cents on the $100

White title tax, $2.00
Colored title tax, 2.00

The road tax, pay of hands, teams, &c., was fixed the same as that of last year.

The County Judge, County Clerk and County Attorney were appointed to enter into such an agreement as may be necessary with Ex-Mayor January respecting the division wall between the Clerk's office yard and Mr. January's property.

The following resolution was offered by a committee consisting of 'Squires Hunter, Earnshaw and Williams and unanimously adopted:

In contemplation of the fact that the terms of office of County Judge W. P. Coons, County Clerk W. W. Ball and Jailer Dennis Fitzgerald, who in their official capacity have been intimately associated with this Court of Claims, will expire in September next and realizing that in all probability this court will not again be in session during their terms now thereore.

Be it Resolved, That in farewell to these officers, this court expresses gratitude to each of them for advice, counsel and assistance rendered by each in his respective sphere, and compliments these officers for having discharged the duties incumbent upon them with fidelity to the county and honor to themselves.

Be it further Resolved, That we part with these gentlemen with regret, and bespeak for them good fortune in their future career.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the records of this court.

The court then adjourned.

The claims allowed during the term amount to $6,381.03. The total allowed in May, 1889, amounted to $7,569.45.

The total State and county levy this year is the same as it was last year—75 cents on the $100.—the State rate being 5 cents lower and the county rate 5 cents higher.

A Good Show.

Eugene Robinson with his elegant Palaces was here for three days delighting large audiences with his museum, menagerie and grand stage performances. A cleaner, brighter, artistic show never visited this city, and people connected with it are perfect ladies and gentlemen and capable actors. On the last night the boats were packed, and every feature was loudly applauded and worthy of special mention. They made many friends here, and we unhesitatingly commend them to the amusement loving people wherever they go.—Evansville (Ind.) Daily Courier.

This show will exhibit at the landing Friday, June 6. It was here in 1888, and gave a good entertainment.

River News.

Falling slowly at this point.

The sudden rise in the Ohio early this week carried down the channel span of the new railroad bridge at Wheeling, entailing a loss of $30,000.

Due up to-night: Sherley for Pomeroy and Andes for Pittsburg. The Hudson and Chancellor will pass down this evening and the Telegraph to-night.

The Wheeling Register says: "It is reported, and the report has good credence, as it comes from parties who will be interested in the enterprise, that a party of Pittsburg capitalists have in contemplation the building of a new boat to run between Pittsburg and Louisville. The new boat will be a side-wheeler, two hundred feet long. The engines will be in the hold, and above will be the cabins—on freight deck, as the boat will carry nothing but passengers, and will be built to make the round trip between these points in a week."

Railroad News.

The famous White Sulphur Springs, on the Chesapeake and Ohio, were opened for the reception of guests this week.

The Courier-Journal says the Chesapeake and Ohio was, on the 28th, compelled to run out an extra sleeper to the East. Its business this year promises to be larger than ever before in its history.

A New York court has decided that if a passenger holding an ordinary ticket gets on a limited train upon which his ticket is not good the conductor has a right to eject him, provided he refuses to pay his fare. It is held that, in the case in question, the passenger should have taken the precaution to inquire at the ticket office if the train which he boarded was an accommodation train.

Somerset's Boom Bursts.

The Lexington Leader says: "The Somerset land sales were a dead failure, and the auction was discontinued after enough lots had been sold to prove that there was no enthusiasm among the bidders present. It is unfortunate that the attempted boom flattened out so completely, as it may have a disastrous effect on the town. For several days prior to the public sale there was a rush of private real estate deals at high pressure prices, and the subsequent bursting of the boom left a great many investors in the middle of a very bad fix."

"Keep your eye on Somerset."

There are some other booms in the same fix as Somerset's, if all reports are true, but we refrain from calling any names.

Real Estate Transfers.

W. T. Shanklin and wife to John T. Shanklin, an undivided half interest in 74 acres of land on the Flat Fork of Johnson Creek; consideration, $4,070.

Henry Gifford to Thomas Taylor, grantors' interest in a lot at Washington; consideration, $25.

Strawberries within the reach of all. Large fine strawberries only 10 cents per quart, at Hill & Co's.

ABERDEEN.

Frank has arrived from Manchester. Gray, the tobacco merchant, was in Cincinnati this week.

Mrs. Midghall was called to Portsmouth a few days since by her sister's illness. The boys had an enjoyable hop in Oddfellows' Hall Tuesday night.

The telegraph thumper was in Manchester Sunday to see his best girl.

Mrs. James Small, of Maysville, is visiting her mother, Mrs. John Cotton, this week.

The Ohio Valley Mills resumed work Tuesday after a few days suspension for repairs.

Rev. Simon Hutchinson, of Ellsberry, has a child very sick with something like lock-jaw. Remember the bonnet show and straw hat promenade will be held in Aberdeen, Sunday, June 1.

The new house of P. N. Bradford is progressing rapidly under the supervision of architects Bricker & Rist.

A blooming miss of eighteen may sing "She wants to be an angel" as much as she pleases, but it is safe to keep your weather eye on her. When she is out of humor the chances are she will make an angel out of you.

John Hood, of Leadville, Colorado, formerly of this place, was visiting his relatives the first of the week. John's many friends will be glad to learn he is prospering in his new home. Success to you, John, wherever you go. He left for his home Tuesday.

An Ordinance
